DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 3/24/10 has been entered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.
3. Claims 15-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. It is not clear from claim 15 why “forming a first side forming plate of the slider fixture to partially cover a first side surface of the slider; and forming a second side forming plate of the slider fixture to partially cover a second side surface of the slider”, is contradicting the next limitation “wherein the first and second side forming plates are substantially parallel to, spaced apart from, and cover the first and second side surfaces of the slider along substantially the entire horizontal portion thereof and along a substantial vertical portion thereof.” The forming plates are either partially covering or substantially covering but cannot do the same at the same time.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless —

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

5. Claims 1, 8 and 15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Kasajima et al (U.S. Pat. 6,831,815).

Regarding claims 1, 8 and 15, Kasajima et al discloses a suspension assembly (figures 1-10), comprising:

a suspension 20 to hold a slider 21 above a data storage medium 10; and a slider fixture 22 formed on the suspension to couple with portions of at least two surfaces of the slider other than a surface facing the data storage medium and other than a surface having a set of connecting pads; and an adhesive substance (column 12, lines 6-13) is applied to the portions between the slider and the slider fixture to couple the slider to the slider fixture, wherein the slider fixture has a first side forming plate 42 formed to cover a first side surface of the slider and a second side forming plate 43 formed to cover a second side surface of the slider, the first and second side forming plates being substantially parallel to, spaced apart from, and covering the first and second side surfaces of the slider along substantially the entire horizontal portion thereof and along a substantial vertical portion thereof.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

7. Claims 2, 9 and 16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kasajima et al in view of Coon.

Regarding claims 2, 9 and 16, Kasajima et al discloses the suspension described above. Kasajima et al does not specifically disclose that the adhesive substance is applied as a partial dot on the portion between the slider and the slider fixture. Coon discloses a method of bonding a slider by applying a dot of adhesive (paragraph 0007). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide the suspension of Kasajima et al with the adhesive partial dot on the portion between the slider and the slider fixture as taught by Coon.

The rationale is as follows: one of ordinary skill in the art would have been motivated to provide the suspension of Kasajima et al with the adhesive partial dot on the portion between the slider and the slider fixture as taught by Coon as doing this would avoid a bridge and failure between the fixture and the slider.

Response to Arguments

8. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-2, 8-9 and 15-16 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
